

Editor – Allergy Update

BSACI are seeking a new Editor for the BSACI official publication Allergy Update which is published twice a year. The position of Editor is for two years and is a volunteer role. The Editor will be responsible for communicating news articles to the membership which are current, relevant and of importance. The Editor will work closely with the BSACI team and designer on the publication.

While the following list is not exhaustive, the Editor's main responsibilities include the following:

- Stay up to date with relevant news and developments that may impact the membership.
- Liaise with authors to commission source content and agree on topics for each issue.
- Follow up on correspondence to ensure all articles and images are submitted on time.
- Edit contributions as required to maintain clarity, consistency and quality.
- Collaborate with the BSACI team and newsletter designer on layout and production through to final sign-off.

During the tenure, the post holder will gain insight into many aspects of the Society and will have the opportunity to work closely with a wide range of experts. Their knowledge and influence will provide valuable support throughout the role.

How to apply

If you would like to apply, please send louise@bsaci.org your CV together with a statement (maximum 1 side of A4) outlining your experience in relation to the role by 9am on Monday 13th July 2026. View the latest issue of Allergy Update.

Eligibility

You must hold a current BSACI membership.

If you would like to know more about his role before applying, please email louise@bsaci.org or the current Editor Deb Marriage at Deb.Marriage@uhbw.nhs.uk.